

WORKSHOPS

a special offer for a series of six free sessions – from May 30, 2022

GLASGOW

Our initial series WORKSHOPS are free and open to anyone able to come to a Glasgow venue. The aim of the series of six sessions is to equip poets with tools, develop the confidence to tinker with their work, and to try out new things in an encouraging environment.

Sessions focus is on topics such as: Audience; Rhyming; Rhythm; Imagery; Presentation and Voice. There is the option of hosting a local poetry event at the end of the series if circumstances permit. Each session lasts for up to 2 hours with a maximum of 6 participants, and can be delivered monthly, weekly, over six consecutive days, or throughout a single weekend, subject to leader availability.

Groups can meet online via Zoom or face-to-face, subject to prevailing Covid restrictions. Groups wishing to meet face-to-face will need to provide the venue and comply with any venue requirements.

Workshops are currently led by Anne Sikking who recently led a series for The Wee Retreat in Glasgow. Anne is a published poet and is the 2021/22 Poet Laureate for TESS arts magazine in the south bay area of Los Angeles. You can read more about her work here: www.annesikking.com

Please complete the enquiry form below and send it to us at glasgowcityofpoets@gmail.com.

Name: of your group or your name
Email:
Tel:
Venue or zoom?:
Preferred dates:
About your group: the type of poetry you like; how established the group is; members' poetic experience; what you hope to gain from the sessions	Attach further pages if necessary.